Music, Dancing, Loads Of Fun For Just Everyone!

Firemen All Set For Victory Costume Dance, Saturday Night

Music! Dancing! Gaiety! Lots of fun! And all for a big, two-fold cause, Saturday night!

Old clothes are coming out of moth balls, ticket sales are soaring high, the floor has been prepared for some light fantastic, and Johnny Dell's union orchestra is tuning up.

Why? It's the Big Victory Costume Dance at Colombo hall on Saturday night. Dancing begins at 8 p. m., and the Daly City Fire department, sponsor of the event, promises a rollicking good time for both young and old. Everyone is invited to join in the fun.

Costumes for the dance are the oldest clothes you have, but be sure they are plenty old.

With the dances of past years the proof of success of the affair, the Big Victory Costume Dance is the eighth annual benefit dance, sponsored by the fire department. Proceeds of the dance go to the Widows' and Orphans' association of Daly City which was organized by the fire department to insure the families of firemen. Fire Chief Andrew P. Chesney, chairman of the general committee, announced that any surplus of the proceeds will be used to purchase defense bonds.

Tickets are on sale by all firemen in the department, and the reports show that a big crowd will be dancing in Colombo hall, Saturday evening. A standing committee from the fire department, most of whom have served in past years, are in charge of the event. Officers of the general committee are Chief Chesney, chairman; Ed Goldkuhl jr., secretary; and Captain L. Kennedy, treasurer.

Each Can You Save Helps Win The War

There's an old gag that knocked around vaudeville stages for years, even before America was conserving tin in the last war. A man filed suit for divorce because his wife hit him with a tomato, leaving a deep gash in his head. Apparently, he didn't mind the tomato so much, but the tin can, which held the tomato, was too much.

But this doesn't begin to compare with the damage you can do to those Japs with your tin cans. It's the iron content in the tin cans that counts. Five bullets can be manufactured from the average size tin can, and five hundred cans a month are used by the average household. That's a lot of bullets, and if every householder is behind the tin can drive, Daly City will do its part.

R. L. Crane jr., chairman of the Daly City Salvage Committee, this week emphasized the need

Registrars Get Preview Of U. S. Occupational Army

Men 44 To 65 Will Play Important Role In Victory

Volunteer registrars and personnel of Daly City Draft Board No. 103 got a preview of America's occupational army, which will soon be in operation, from the recent signup for men between the ages of 44 to 65. The registration was held Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, April 25, 26, and 27, the fourth selective service registration since the bill was passed in 1940.

Looking back to the time when the war was still young, it was first the fellows from 21 to 35 that signed up for the new selective service system in Daly City in 1940, while the Nazis were conducting air raids on London. They were followed by another crop of youngsters who had just reached their twenty-first birthday, the following year.

Then, two months after Pearl Harbor and America's entry into the war, a grim group of future soldiers signed with the Daly City board in the first wartime draft.

And, now, another group of men have added their names to the local board—a group of men who don't exactly resemble their youthful predecessors. But they aren't old by any means—not too old to play an important role in America's victory.

True, these men, many of whom are veterans of '17 and, yes, of

To Launch Spring Clean-Up Week Monday Morning

Fred A. Collins, A. J. Bodien Map City-Wide Campaign

Daly City's sixth annual Spring Clean-up Week will be launched, Monday morning, when city officials combine efforts with residents to make Daly City a more attractive and a safer place.

Designed to give the city a thorough cleaning and to eliminate fire hazards such as rubbish and trash, the Clean-up Week will proceed with a free collection of rubbish in all sections of the community on specified days throughout the week. Mayor A. J. Gaggero appointed Fred A. Collins, city health officer, and A. J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, to the administration of next week's campaign for cleanliness.

In order to handle the rubbish efficiently and without the confusion of return trips to various sections of the city, the Clean-up Week board set the following schedule for pickups: Monday, all streets in the Crocker tract; Wednesday, all streets in the Hillcrest and Mission Tract and the Vista Grande Section; and Friday, all streets in the Jefferson park and Colma section. Trucks will call at the places only on the specified day.

Rubbish is to be placed near the curb in front of the house at 8 a. m. on the specified day for that particular section. Collins urged that all residents place their rubbish out on time so that it will be collected. When the pickup is missed and the rubbish is allowed to stand all day on the street, the purpose of the Clean-up Week is defeated, he added.

Five rules were set up for residents to follow in participating in Spring Clean-up Week:

1. Clean up ordinary rubbish from your basement and yard.

2. Place in sacks, barrels, boxes, or other containers.

3. DO NOT put in any garbage or dirt, and DO NOT expect large and heavy things, such as trees and automobile bodies to be picked up. DO NOT put loose rubbish out.

4. Keep on your own grounds until the proper date.

5. Put containers of rubbish on the sidewalk near the curb in front of your house at 8 a. m. ON THE PROPER DAY ONLY and it will be taken away free by the city truck.

PTA Units Conduct Signup For Tags

Accompanying the registration of all sugar-users in the community, application for identification tags for all children, under the age of eighteen years, is open to local residents.

In progress under the supervision of the Parent-Teachers associations, this registration ends today. All parents of children under eighteen were urged to register their children.

Information regarding all children will be recorded including the name, address, date of birth, religion, and blood type. Identification tags may be purchased at a charge of ten cents, and the child should wear the tag at all times. Purchase of the tag is not compulsory.

General chairmen of PTA units for four local grammar schools are supervising the identification signup in their respective districts.

It is expected that the defendant will file a plea and the court will attempt to determine whether sufficient evidence has been uncovered to proceed with the trial in the superior court in

Women's Corps Seeks Recruits For First Aid Work

Waterfront Stations Must Be Kept Open On 24-Hour Basis

To keep waterfront first aid stations in operation on a 24-hour basis for service men who are stationed on the Embarcadero, Mrs. Jennie Borelli, Daly City recruiting officer for the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps of America, renewed the appeal for more recruits, Tuesday.

Not only are members of the organization concerned with the shortage of trained women in the first aid stations, but they also supervise a number of other aid projects.

There is a vital need at present for five hundred recruits in the corps, and Mrs. Borelli pointed out the opportunity to every woman to obtain free training in both civilian and military courses, such as motor mechanics, ambulance and heavy vehicle driving, radio sending and receiving, and first aid. All military training is under direct supervision of offi-

Defense Council Reports Daly City Blackout "Good"

Residents Speedily Respond To Order For Total Darkness

Even though the alert signal in Sunday night's blackout was followed only four minutes later by the order for blackout, Daly City's Civilian Defense Council went into action with no delay or confusion. Residents of the community responded quickly to the order, and the city was in total darkness in a few minutes.

"Alert" was received at 11:03 p. m. and the order for blackout came at 11:07 p. m. A few of the local civilian defense personnel were unable to reach their posts because of the four minute notice, but they were immediately substituted by others and the operations continued without interruption.

Arthur J. Bodien, chairman of the Civilian Defense Council, declared the blackout to be perfect in Daly City, expressing a fine response everywhere.

"We had only two or three phone call complaints during the blackout," Bodien said, "and that is quite a contrast to the flood of calls that were received here during that first blackout."

Much success was reported, especially in the new control center where response was immediate. The six telephone operators in the control center and the Civilian Defense Council heads made use of the time during the 45 minute blackout to check each unit headquarters over the city by telephone. All first aid and utility unit headquarters were called, and they were all standing by.

Aside from air raid wardens, all auxiliary officers, both fire and police, were standing by in their assigned districts with fire company captains and regular police officers in charge.

No accidents in the city during the blackout were reported by the police department.

Cab Driver Faces Felony Charges

Climaxing a brief search by Daly City police to recover an automobile which was stolen, shortly after midnight Monday, from the Daly City Cab company, Frank Scraper, local cab driver, faces charges of grand theft. He was arraigned, yesterday, by Judge John J. Fahey jr. Preliminary hearing was set for Thursday, May 14, 3 p. m. in the Daly City court.

Scraper allegedly took the cab, at midnight Monday, and failed

Sector 1 Air Raid Wardens Set Up First Fully Equipped Unit First Aid Station

Not satisfied with merely being a senior air raid warden in sector 1 of Daly City's Civilian Defense Council, Olaus Gimle, 89 Partridge lane, went to work with his crew of thirteen wardens and set up the first fully-equipped unit first aid station in Daly City.

Gimle's garage has been converted into the first aid station in that district, and all the lumber for the room was donated by him. When the room was in shape for equipment, the eight men held a drawing to raise funds for the purchase of first aid equipment. The radio was won by Mrs. Getha Mejia, 74 Partridge lane.

Two complete first aid kits, valued at $60, were purchased for the room. In addition to the large kits in the first aid station, each warden in Sector 1 is equipped with a portable kit which he carries with him during blackouts, ready for minor casualties.

One of the most progressive sectors in the Civilian Defense Council, Sector 1's first aid station will be used as one of the council's thirteen official unit headquarters, and the first aid volunteers of that district will report there during blackouts. Helping Gimle in the first aid organization were two neighbors, Stedman Prescott, 90 Partridge lane, who will be in charge of the first aid unit, and O. P. Ramsey, 43 Partridge lane. Also instrumental in the organization of the station were other wardens: S. Zgraggen sr., 535 Hanover street; Fred Zgraggen jr., 535 Hanover street; S. J. Garbarini, 539 Hanover street; C. Prescott, 90 Partridge lane; J. Zgraggen, 345 Hanover street; Stone Lantz sr., 563 Hanover street; Stone Lantz jr., 563 Hanover street; Ernest Lantz, 563 Hanover street; F. Orr, 357 Bellevue avenue; W. A. Clement, 66 Partridge lane; and A. E. Mejia, 74 Partridge lane.

It's Sugar-Rationing Time In Daly City

Here is a typical scene, photographed during Daly City's sugar rationing registration. In progress since Monday, the registration ends today. All sugar users of the community who have not yet applied for war ration books were urged to apply at the grammar school nearest their home not later than today. Books will be issued to all those who do not have an excess of sugar on hand. Any applicants who have an excess supply of sugar only file application, and the books will be issued later. The ration book system will allow families to purchase sugar at the rate of eight ounces per person per week.

At the halfway mark in the signup, which was reached at closing time Tuesday, Daly City had signed up 6,309, leaving approximately 6,191 to register yesterday and today.

for continued contributions of tin cans, and not merely one contribution. The city truck picks up Daly City's tin can collection every Friday at all the grammar schools and transports them to the Metal Thermite plant in South San Francisco. Send the tin cans to the grammar schools with grammar school pupils. They are the collectors, and if you are unable to contact any of the school children, go to the Administration building, 344 Santa Barbara avenue and give them your address. Your tin will be picked up.

Redwood City.

Darnell was slain, Sunday, April 26, in the hallway of the Hillcrest Apartments outside the door to his flat by a bullet, fired from a .22 calibre rifle. Pavlos, a tenant on the floor above, was apprehended on circumstantial evidence.

Plaintiff in the case will be Mrs. Clara Pariott, formerly known as the wife of Charles Darnell, the victim. Mrs. Parriot admitted to Police Chief James G. Reardon that she is the wife of a Lake county resident and the mother of six children, but she said that she left home two years ago.

Further light on the case which has since arisen is that the victim, Darnell, was also known as William Lee Fuson, the latter being his true name.

Pavlos, who was found in bed in his room in the upstairs apartment a few minutes after the murder was committed, admitted ownership of a rifle which is believed to have been used in the slaying but denied to police that he had anything to do with the murder. He stated that he was not acquainted with the victim. The gun was found on a light well in the apartment house by Officer Joseph Kusber a few minutes after police had arrived on the scene.

Representing Pavlos in the trial is Joseph J. Bullock, a Redwood City attorney. Bullock's associate, Gerard Wagstaffe, represented the defendant in Friday's arraignment.

GIVE YOUR BLOOD TO SAVE A LIFE is the request of the American Red Cross on this poster recruiting volunteers for the Blood Donor Service.

The appeal to Daly City residents to give their blood to the Red Cross for use by the armed forces was made today by Mrs. George Montgomery, chairman of the blood donor service, San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross.

The chairman stated that a Red Cross mobile unit will be stationed in San Mateo on Thursday, May 28, and on the last Thursday of each month thereafter. One hundred donors will be needed each month, and appointments may be made by calling Burlingame 3097, or by mailing a postcard requesting an appointment to the office of the American Red Cross, San Mateo County chapter, 224 Primrose Road, Burlingame.

Golden Boy Wins Third Place In Show

Entered against fourteen of the finest Palamino horses in the west, Golden Boy, famous Palamino stallion owned by Ed Allen, well-known horseman of Daly City, won third place in the recent horse show at the fair grounds in Napa, California.

The stallion was ridden by Ed Allen jr., who also won two ribbons on his horse, Red, in the Navy Relief show. The elder Allen is a member of the Colma Horsemen's association. In business life, he is the proprietor of the Daly City Mattress company, 6754 Mission street.

Only Ten Days To Fill Out Occupational Form

Draft registrants who have received occupational questionnaires were reminded, this week, by Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, clerk of Daly City Draft Board No. 103, that only ten days is allowed to fill out the forms and return them to selective service headquarters.

In order to obtain full information for the government on the vocational background of those who have registered, the questionnaire is designed to solve the problem of moving men from non-essential industry into war jobs. The information is sought by the United States Employment service.

Most important feature of the form is the list of two hundred occupations, on which the registrant is asked to check the jobs in which he has had experience. This form is in addition to the military questionnaire sent to all registrants for military service classification.

Completing the job of mailing the occupational forms, this week, the local draft board announced that they are being mailed only to men who signed up in the third registration in February. Registrants who signed up previous to that time will be required to list their vocational experience at a later date, as will the men who registered, last week.

Navy Confirms Death Of Marshall DeSparr

The United States Navy's first casualty list of the war, compiled by the Navy Department and released, Monday, from Washington, confirmed the report received by Mrs. Katherine J. DeSparr, 245 Templeton avenue, last December, that her son, Marshall Eugene DeSparr, was killed in action, at Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. DeSparr received the wire of her son's death two weeks and three days after the Pearl Harbor attack. Young DeSparr was a corporal in the United States Marine Air Corps, and was stationed at the Pearl Harbor air base at the time of the attack. He was a resident of Daly City, and attended local schools before his enlistment with the Marine Corps.

Preview Of U. S. Occupational Army

'98, won't see action in the front lines, but they will carry the grave responsibility on the production and occupational fronts.

Armed with a determination to be the number one registrant in Daly City, Arthur J. Bodien was an early riser, Saturday morning, the first day of the registration. Bodien was comfortably waiting in a chair beside the closed door of the draft office in the city hall at 6:30 a. m. When Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, draft office clerk arrived to open the office for registration at 7 a. m., she assured Bodien that he was the first to register in Daly City.

Any hopes that Tony Parmisano had of being the first registrant were lost when he viewed Bodien's staunch position at the door.

"I'll be the first in Daly City to register!" Parmisano said as he hurried upstairs to selective service headquarters; but when he found Bodien he amended: "No, I'll be a close second."

This enthusiasm on the part of these men was typical of the whole local registration. Each man registered with the assurance that, "When they want me, I'm ready!"

All five districts of the local board were busy on all days. Headquarters at the city hall registered 1064 men, 638 of whom registered on the first day. Mrs. Flynn was in charge of the local signup.

Registration in the Colma firehouse found 510 men signing. South San Francisco led the rest of the draft board districts with a total of 1100 men, and Sharp Park signed 334. The Brisbane registration netted 185 registrants.

Dr. J. C. McGovern, local draft chairman, expressed appreciation to the volunteer registrars for their services.

to return with it until late Tuesday night when he was arrested by local police at the intersection of Onondega and Mission streets in San Francisco. Complaint was filed by Joe Madison, manager of the Cab company. Scraper is being held by local police and Judge Fahey set bail at $1000 cash and $2000 bond.

Although the cab had been missing and, consequently, out of operation all day Tuesday, Madison declined filing the complaint until 5 p. m. Tuesday.

cers of the regular army.

Three recruits have signed up at local headquarters, the Cut 'N Curl Beauty Salon, 6654 Mission street. All prospective recruits may contact Mrs. Borelli at that address or call Randolph 0292. The three local women who have enlisted in the service, so far, are Miss Marion Kelly, 40 Alexander street; Mrs. Ethel Adams, 172 Templeton avenue, and Miss Corrine Parmisano, 101 Evergreen avenue.

Requirements to join the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps are that the applicant be an American citizen or in possession of first papers and between the ages of 18 to 45.

"Applicants are not required to know how to drive an automobile," Mrs. Borelli stated in urging more local enlistments.

"Recruits are primarily needed, not to drive ambulances, but to serve in the first aid stations on the waterfront following their first aid training."

All recruits are required to serve from four to eight hours a week in the first aid stations. Following are the various four and eight hour schedules in which a recruit may serve: 8 a. m. to 12 noon; 12 noon to 4 p. m.; 4 p. m. to 8 p. m.; 8 p. m. to 12 midnight; 12 midnight to 8 a. m. The latter shift can only be worked on an eight hour basis.

The Women's Ambulance Defense Corps is on the air every Friday night at 6:30 p. m. under a program, "Double Time March" over radio station KYA.

Costume Suit

ALL-PURPOSE suit of beige wool, like the one worn by Mary Shipp of Columbia network's "Silver Theater," is a smart item for the girl-on-a-budget wardrobe. Here it is worn with a huge jeweled clip and milan straw cartwheel, suitable for dining in town. A quick switch to sports accessories makes an ideal outfit for the country club. THIS IS THE STORY OF CARBOLOY

How a Most Strategic Material of the War—Invented in Germany—Was Made Available to the United Nations

More Precious Than Diamonds in War Production . . . Carboloy is an American trademark for cemented tungsten-carbide, an alloy second only to diamonds in hardness, more precious than diamonds as a vital material in America's war program. It is used for the tips of cutting tools, and for wear-resistant dies. Carboloy is used in small quantities; it is difficult to make and difficult to use—but it has never been scarce in modern times. There is no scarcity now.

Invented in Germany—Krupp Protected by U. S. Patents . . . Cemented carbide was invented in Germany—it belonged to Krupp of Germany, and this made all the rest of the world Krupp's customer. In this country, Krupp was protected by patent grants from the United States.

General Electric Creates Independent Production . . . The General Electric Company two years before this had begun research on tungsten-carbide and foresaw its importance in industrial production. For immediate use in its own plants and for easier availability to others, General Electric undertook the long and arduous negotiations for the American rights. Limited rights were obtained in 1928, with Krupp continuing to export the material to its United States customers—a business which languished, however, as General Electric painstakingly developed its own Carboloy technique. This paved the way for General Electric to make the United States entirely independent of Germany for its cemented tungsten-carbide supply as early as 1936.

American Tool Costs Half That of German . . . From the start, two totally different businesses were involved. Krupp originally exported cemented carbides in chunks—and was unsuccessful. General Electric—and its subsidiary, Carboloy Co., Inc.—found it necessary to develop a complete engineering and manufacturing service, making various types of Carboloy equipped tools, training men in their use, and offering to its customers a specialized and successful production technique. For purposes of fair comparison, a typical German cemented carbide tool in 1928 cost $22.26 in the United States, while a comparable American Carboloy tool cost $11.11.

Loss to General Electric for Many Years—Art Taught to Industry . . . In times of peace—and 1928 was such a time—the measure of success of industrial adventure is to be found in profit to the adventurer. By such a measure, Carboloy could not be called successful. Initial expenses were great. For a time the Company lost at the rate of $1000 a day, and once had an operating deficit of more than a million dollars.* One of the major contributing reasons was the continuing high cost of development, standardization, and training. In 1936-37 alone, training courses were given to 10,000 men in industry. Moreover, six major price reductions were made in the face of operating losses, until the standard tool blank had been reduced in price 90 per cent.

Faith and Perseverance . . . Depression was still another reason—labor-saving tools could not be sold to industry or labor at any price. But General Electric, with determination that now seems providential, kept on—increasing its capacity, granting new licenses, condoning instances of unlicensed production, staying ahead of its market.

Production Multiplied Forty-five Times in Four Years . . . Cemented tungsten-carbide could easily have been a source of weakness here, as it was in England, had it not been for General Electric's policy of continued expansion. In 1939, the production of the Carboloy Company was less than 20,000 lbs.; in 1940, it was 55,000 lbs.; in 1941, it was 163,000—and in December came Pearl Harbor. Now, in 1942, the Company's production is going at a rate that is 45 times that of only four years ago.

Britain Dependent upon Us . . . By contrast, British companies, which had been content to continue as customers of Krupp, found themselves cut off from the vital material when Poland was invaded. But the General Electric Company was able to supply substantial quantities to British industry immediately and since then has continuously filled British orders. It has, in like manner, filled Canada's requirements since 1936. It is currently supplying Canada, Russia, and other United Nations. All this in addition to supplying the greatly expanded needs of American industry.

An Inspirational Story of American Industry . . . Thus, the story of Carboloy does not end in "too little and too late." Like many previously untold stories of American industry, it continues, a sturdy and inspiring example of public service born of private enterprise, and characterized by hard work, ingenuity, investment, research, risk, and courage—a familiar pattern on this side of the Atlantic. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Over the entire period of its existence up to January 1st, 1942 the total net profit of the Carboloy Company was 2.5 per cent of sales.*

CALIFORNIANS COVER THE WAR

With the world one vast battlefield, with propaganda as important as panzers, and words as deadly as bullets, California newspapermen comprise half the entire corps of American war correspondents. Moreover, these predominately California newsmen are unhampered by censorships, save for common sense restrictions on information that might be of immediate aid to America's enemies.

That healthy picture of the relationship between press and public and government in our democracy at war was presented last week by John B. Long, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers' association, before a representative gathering of Western newsmen and advertising men at the Palace hotel in San Francisco. "Today all of the war fronts and major world capitals find American newspapermen manning the bureaus of the AP, UP and INS," Long declared, "seeing things with American eyes, recording them in American hearts, and writing them for American readers with American brains. Americans are the most enlightened people on earth; and Californians are the most fortunate of American newspaper readers, for the roll of California trained newspapermen in the foreign news service is amazingly large."

Interpreting his own news, Publisher Long attributed the vigor and thoroughness of American press coverage of the war to a freedom that goes deeper than freedom from the blue pencil of extreme war censorship. "The American newspaper publisher, large or small, daily or weekly, gambles his personal possessions and fortune, if he has one, against his ability to produce and distribute a newspaper that you and I as the readers in his community will accept and patronize," he said. "That's what maintains his circulation. Circulation maintains his advertising. And that's what I call economic freedom of the press."

From that economic freedom of the press has evolved the enterprising, adventurous, independent California breed of newsmen who literally write the history of this seething world as it unfolds day by day.

SPRING TIME MAY BE BOMB TIME!

It is not probable that bombs will fall on our communities. Enemy bombers would have to fly a long way to get here. Nevertheless, it could happen and we know that such things have happened in many parts of the world. Since it is possible, it is necessary for us to prepare to minimize the damage that would result.

What we usually think of at this time of the year is spring clean-up. And we could not act on a better thought this year, say the engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who have studied the possibilities of bombing damage. They say that every citizen should give his premises a thorough spring cleaning. In this way chances of accidental fire will be cut down, and in addition, we will be safer if an enemy attack comes.

It is suggested that attics, especially, be cleaned out thoroughly. Even trained firemen would have difficulty putting out fires ignited by incendiary bombs in an attic cluttered with discarded furniture, piles of paper and old clothing. The National Board also recommends that each citizen prepare to extinguish fire bombs. For this purpose it is best to have a suitable connection and a hose long enough to reach the attic. Only a spray of water should be used on the bomb itself.

This year America must be prepared for any eventuality. Spring clean-up is more important than ever.

Reading & Writing

By Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

John Gunther, who is the only man we know of to have successfully invaded three continents single-handed, has just completed a new War Edition of his book, "Inside Asia." The new edition of this excellent book brings the record up as far as the Japanese grab of the Dutch East Indies.

Gunther, who has a passion for statistics, reports that he made five thousand textual changes in the new edition, added 30,000 words.

While we're on the subject of statistics, here are a few more about John Gunther and his books. More than 1,250,000 copies have been sold of his three "inside" books—"Inside Europe," "Inside Asia," and "Inside Latin America." All three were distributed by the Book-of-the-Month Club, the first two as book-dividends given away to members, the last as a recent book-of-the-month. In fact, the Book-of-the-Month Club has distributed close on to three-quarters of a million copies of Gunthers books.

"Inside Europe" and "Inside Asia" were translated into sixteen different languages, and in England they enjoyed a wider distribution than any American book, since Mark Twain.

To gather material for "Inside Latin America," which is still riding high on all the best-seller lists, Gunther flew some 18,000 miles, talked with seventeen of the twenty heads of states, eighteen of the twenty foreign ministers. In five and a half months he only had dinner alone five times and didn't have a single day off duty.

With all the excitement there was in Hawaii on December 7, there were at least three people who had no idea anything out of the ordinary had occurred, says Blake Clark, ex-professor of English in Hawaii, in his book, "Remember Pearl Harbor!" One of these was the artist wife of a Navy officer who painted the day through and who thought the bombs and guns she heard were part of the regular army manoeuvres. The other two were spinster ladies living in a secluded palm grove in Waikiki. The nephew of these ladies, Harlan Reynolds, a resident of New York, heard the news over the radio, and promptly cabled them: "DEEPEST SYMPATHY DEAR AUNTS PLEASE COME HOME IMMEDIATELY." The women, upon receiving the cable, looked at each other in bewilderment over their knitting. "What in the world is the matter with Harlan?" they said.

In the army, words often aren't what they seem, Colonel Elbridge Colby points out in his dictionary, "Army Talk." For instance, "bubble dancing" has nothing to do with chorus girls. It's the soldiers' term for washing dishes. An "angel's whisper" applies to bugle calls for air service. The old familiar "canned cow," applying to condensed milk, has been changed to "armored cow" in the modern army. When your son comes home on leave and asks for "albatross," he wants chicken for dinner. And he's apt to refer to the homely dish of prunes as "army strawberries."

One million books for the Victory Book Campaign is the goal the Book-of-the-Month Club has asked its more than five hundred thousand members to set for themselves. Each member is being asked to contribute at least two books to the men in service. The Club itself has already given 656 full yearly subscriptions to the Army. This means 15,000 new books during the year with a retail value of more than $46,000.

SPRING FLIGHT

SPORTS

Thirteen Qualify For Conference

Following results of last week's qualifying rounds, thirteen track and field athletes from three weight classes at Jefferson Union high school will vie for points in the P. A. L. Conference Meet at Stanford university stadium, Saturday.

Coach Milt Axt, new mentor at Jefferson, who took over the track squad this spring, expressed hopes of good individual performances from the Jeffs, although they won't be able to roll up large point totals in view of the small number of qualifying athletes.

McGrath, Faulk, and possibly Lance are expected to be Jefferson's big threats, based on results in the qualifying rounds. McGrath should be able to win either in the 100 yard dash or the 220. His time in the qualifying heats was 10.2 in the 100 and 23.2 in the 220, the latter being his best race.

Faulk, giant tackle on last year's football team, delivered the best mark in the shot put with a heave of 45 feet 5 inches, and Coach Axt added that this mark is the best so far, so Faulk shouldn't find trouble winning the event. He also qualified in the discus throw.

Concentrating his efforts on the high jump and passing up the hurdle event, Lance, Jefferson jumper, is groomed to turn in a good performance, Saturday. Other Varsity tracksters who qualified were: Kile, low hurdles; Steele, 880; and Bettencourt, pole vault.

In the 135 pound class, Jefferson will have Barsi in the 100 yard dash; Jackson and Bain in the quarter mile; Jackson in the half mile. The 120 pounders are Chelone, who is a strong contender in both the 50 and 100; Knight, quarter mile; Bybee, 120 yard low hurdles. Hopper qualified for the broad jump in the 110 class.

JEFFS TO MEET SAN MATEO HIGH

Coach Albert "B. I." Biggs' Jeff baseballers get the supreme test, tomorrow afternoon, when they tangle with San Mateo high school in their chance at the Shaughnessy playoffs in the P. A. L. Tomorrow's tilt is scheduled on the San Mateo diamond.

To date, the Indians have won three, lost two, and forfeited one in league play, and they must win the game, tomorrow, to compete in the Shaughnessy playoffs which includes the four top teams of the league.

League play last week found the Jeffs losing to San Jose on Tuesday, 4 to 3, and winning over Burlingame high by a score of 8 to 5. A home run off the bat of Bob Nava, Jefferson rightfielder, with two mates on deck in the fourth inning won the Burlingame contest.

Jimmy McKinnon, left-handed pitching ace for the Indians, allowed the Burlingames five hits. Coach Biggs expects to use McKinnon on the mound again in the San Mateo game.

Manuel Huerta will catch for Jefferson, and the following will play the infield: Freeman, first base; Razzari, second base; Rainey, third base; Arthur, shortstop. The outfield will include Dyer, Nava, and Peterson or Rigler.

Whist To Benefit Holy Angels Church

Plans were completed today for the whist to be held for the benefit of Holy Angels' church, tomorrow evening. Playing will begin at 8:30 p. m. at Parish hall.

A committee of ladies from the church will be in charge of the card party. It was announced that proceeds from the event will be used to pay expenses of the Sunday school.

Many expensive and lovely gifts and cash donations have been procured by the committee.

Refreshments will be served to all card players, free, at the close of the game.

Royal Neighbors Sewing Group Meets

Mrs Ocie Ainsworth, 730 Templeton avenue, was hostess to the sewing group, Vista Grande Camp No. 6035, Royal Neighbors of America, last Tuesday.

All members of the group were present at the afternoon meeting. Luncheon was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Mattie Putnam.

Next meeting of the ladies will be held Tuesday evening, May 12, at the home of Mrs. Johanna Hedvall, 376 Santa Barbara avenue.

Assisting Mrs. Hedvall with the evening's entertainment will be Mrs. Anna Smith.

Several local members attended the big annual joint meeting of all East bay and San Francisco circles in Oakland, Friday. Over three hundred members from local circles attended.

Those going from Daly City's circle included: Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Cora Ray, Mrs. Ainsworth, Mrs. Clarise Scott, Mrs. Emilie Twesten, Mrs. Lyla Therry, Mrs. Mary Surnack, Mrs. Grace Coolish, Mrs. Estelle Petersen, Mrs. Agnes Wood, and Mrs. Esther Meritt.

District Auxiliary Meets Tomorrow Night

Mrs. L. G. Reilly, member of Daly City Unit No. 410, American Legion auxiliary, will preside at the regular meeting of Twenty-sixth district, American Legion auxiliary, tomorrow evening. The meeting will be called to order at 8:15 p. m. at the Burlingame Legion hall, Burlingame. Mrs. Reilly is district president.

All members of the Twenty-sixth district, American Legion, will be special guests.

At the close of a short business meeting a program of "real fun" will be enjoyed, according to the social committee.

Belmont, Belle Haven City and Millbrae units will be hostesses.

Borden's Dairy Delivery Has Every-Other-Day Plan

Daly City and Colma customers of the Borden's Dairy Delivery company were advised this week that Borden's are now making home deliveries only every other day. This action has been taken by the company upon the request of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Borden's officials stressed the fact that their company has guaranteed the jobs of the men who would ordinarily be let out by such an order.

"This change in service is being made because we feel that every company must cooperate with the government in the present emergency," officials said.

"BITTER SWEET" TO OPEN SEASON

San Francisco will have one of its most brilliant seasons of light opera when the third annual light opera festival opens at the Curran theatre, May 11, with Noel Coward's master-piece, "Bitter Sweet."

Presented jointly by the recently organized San Francisco Civic Light Opera association, and the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera association, the season lists four great operettas, introducing famous singing, dancing and comedy stars of opera, stage and screen.

"Bitter Sweet," the opening attraction, will co-star Muriel Angelus and John Howard. Miss Angelus is one of England's most brilliant singing actresses, well remembered for having appeared in "Balalaika" in London, and the New York smash hit, "The Boys from Syracuse." She will have the role of Lady Shayne.

John Howard, distinguished dramatic actor and singer of stage and screen, is being presented on the Pacific Coast for the first time in a romantic singing role.

Second offering of the season will be "The Vagabond King," the week of May 18, with four brilliant vocal artists: Bob Lawrence of the St. Louis Municipal Opera, Dorothy Sandlin, Marthe Errolle and Robert Stanford. John Carradine will appear as Louis XI, with Melville Cooper and Vera Marsh completing the cast.

"Hit the Deck," riotous musical comedy by Vincent Youman, will be staged the week beginning June 1. Frank Albertson, Joan Roberts and Ethel Waters will head the large cast.

Final offering of the season beginning June 8, will mark the return of John Charles Thomas, America's foremost baritone, in "Music in the Air," the Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein hit. Irra Petina, Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera Company star, and Francis Lederer, one of the country's most eminent stage personages, will appear with Thomas.

COLMA FACES SHORTAGE OF RANCH WORKERS

Facing a shortage of two hundred laborers in the Colma agricultural district, San Mateo county agriculture officials recently demanded action from San Francisco to supply the Colma farms with laborers.

With all available farm labor in the county converted into military service and defense jobs, the county agricultural commissioner, Max Leonard, appealed to San Francisco's Italian and Oriental workers for the jobs, since seventy per cent of San Francisco's fresh vegetables reportedly come from the Colma district at seasonal periods.

If Colma crops are lost for lack of labor, it was pointed out that it would mean higher prices, since the short distance from Colma to San Francisco enables vegetables to be supplied to consumers at low prices.

Matoaka Council Celebrates '06 Anniversary

An outstanding feature on the April calendar for Matoaka Council No. 18, Degree of Pocahontas, was a celebration of the 1906 fire and earthquake. All of the council's past pocahontases were in charge.

Past pocahontases in attendance served the council in a period of years ranging from 1897 to 1941. The degree was conferred on a class of five candidates by Marino Welch, pocahontas, Mary Hennessy, wenonah, Frank Dunne, powhattan and Helen Nichols, prophetess.

Presiding officers at the affair included: Retta Woodworth, pocahontas, Josephine Trueb, wenonah and Stella Zanette, prophetess.

Don't think we are happy about the tire shortage!

We've heard people say, "The railroads are pretty lucky. Pretty soon tires will begin to wear out and people will have to travel by train."

Well, we aren't very happy about it.

In the first place, we don't like the idea of people riding on our trains because they have to. We'd rather have them travel by train because they want to.

Second, we've always felt that there's a time and place for the automobile, and a time to take the train. Most of us in the Southern Pacific have automobiles, so we're affected by the tire situation, too.

And in the third place, we know that any business we get as a result of the war is only temporary. In the long run our success will depend upon the service we give.

At present it is difficult to serve you as well as we would like to because of the absolute necessity of giving priority to war traffic. War trains—the Victory Trains—come first.

But if you do travel with us to save your tires, we'll do everything we can to give you a pleasant, comfortable trip.

Tyrone Power Star Of "Son Of Fury"

In the five years that Tyrone Power has been on the screen, he's given many stirring portrayals—but his latest, "Son of Fury," the story of Benjamin Blake which opens tonight at the Daly City theatre, surpasses them all.

Based on Edison Marshall's best-selling novel, "Son of Fury" has everything — swashbuckling adventure, action on the high seas, torrid romance in the South Sea islands, realistic fights. The story is laid in the early 1800's, and depicts the adventures of a nameless urchin who must go through life battling the world for his birthright. It is the blazing history of a man who rises from stable boy to ruler of a South Sea paradise, and who deserts this paradise to claim his name.

"Son of Fury" marks another step forward in the career of Miss Gene Tierney, whose portrayal of the exotic native girl is her best to date. As the langorous Tahitian beauty, she makes it doubly hard for Power to return to his native England—and who would blame him for not leaving!

George Sanders, Frances Farmer and young Roddy McDowall complete the top featured cast and each turns in a well-rounded performance. Sanders is at his sinister best as the treacherous conniving Uncle, while the talented Miss Farmer makes a most appealing young English girl. Roddy McDowall follows up the splendid work he did in "How Green Was My Valley"

What Was It? Another False Alarm

"Another blackout or another Sunday shipyard fire?" Daly City firemen of Companies 1, 4, and 5 asked themselves as they jumped into their clothes to answer an alarm at 2:13 a. m. Sunday.

But it turned out to be "just another false alarm" when they responded to the call which came from fire alarm box 45 at Mission street and Templeton avenue.

Two Injured When Driver Falls Asleep

An early morning crash, involving an automobile and a telephone pole, on Mission street near Parkview avenue, Friday, resulted in injuries to George Farnsworth and Milton E. Richards, both of Pinole, California. The accident happened when the driver fell asleep at the wheel.

Richards, owner of the car, received a fracture of the right leg and numerous cuts about the face. Farnsworth, who was driving the machine, suffered a badly bruised face. The two men were taken to Villa hospital by the Company 1 fire truck, present city ambulance.

Members of the San Mateo County Tire Rationing Board hereafter will receive the names of persons on a preferred status for the purchase of tires who are caught driving at excessive speeds. This order was issued to highway patrolmen by their chief, E. Raymond Cato, to preserve precious rubber. SOUP as Mainstay for meal

Dorothy Greig

WHEN days are more-than-busy and yet hot food must be ready right on the dot, why not serve deep brimful bowls of hearty soup? It can be the hot mainstay of the meal.

Use such nourishing soups as condensed chicken gumbo, vegetable, clam chowder, Scotch broth, pepper pot and beef—soups rich of stock and crowded with meat, chicken, vegetables, rice, noodles. Or pin your faith on the thick vegetable purées—tomato, pea, celery and asparagus—to which milk can be added. Soups like these belong in wartime meals. They help maintain vitality and strength. Here, for example, is one delicious and energizing soup:

Highland Vegetable Broth

1 can condensed Scotch broth
1 can condensed vegetable soup
2 cans water (using soup can as measure)

Combine the soups. Add the water and heat. Serves 5-7.

By BETTY BARCLAY

This is the day when dad, daughter and occasionally a son sees fit to make Mother's day more joyful by serving her instead of being served.

The following recipes are easy to follow. Do you get the idea?

Tomatoes Stuffed with Liederkranz Cheese

Cut the stem end from small tomatoes and scoop out the pulp Sprinkle the inside of the tomato with salt and stuff with Liederkranz cheese.

Peach and Banana Cocktail

1 box (16 oz.) quick-frozen sliced peaches, thawed and halved
1 tablespoon maraschino cherry juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 medium bananas, sliced
Maraschino cherry slices, halved
6 sprigs of mint

Combine peaches, fruit juices and banana. Place in sherbet glasses. Garnish with cherry slices and mint. Serves 6. This is an easy Mother's Day treat because the quick-frozen peaches come to you all sliced and sweetened, ready to serve as soon as they're thawed.

Lima Salad

1 cup cooked, dried Limas
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup diced, cooked beets
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
¼ cup French dressing
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Mix ingredients and chill before serving. Arrange on lettuce.

Lemon Muffins

½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks well beaten
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Cream butter and sugar until smooth. Add egg yolks and beat until light. Add the lemon juice alternately with the flour, which has been sifted with baking powder and salt, mixing thoroughly after each addition (do not over-mix). Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and the grated lemon peel. Fill greased muffin pans ¾ full and bake in moderate over (375 degrees F.) about 20 minutes.

Magic Chocolate Nut Balls

2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1⅓ cups (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
Nut meats, chopped

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Cool for 5 minutes. Drop by teaspoonfuls into finely-chopped nut meats. Roll until well-covered with nuts. Let stand in refrigerator for two hours. A drop or two of peppermint may be added to part of the mixture to give variety. This magically failure-proof recipe guarantees a toothsome triumph, even for young cooks.

Peanut Brittle Rennet-Custard

1 rennet tablet
1 tablespoon cold water
1 pint milk, not canned
⅓ to ½ cup finely rolled peanut brittle
½ teaspoon vanilla

Make rennet-custard according to directions in package, adding finely rolled peanut brittle to milk. Chill. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream and blackberries or coarsely broken up brittle.

Mother's Day Coffolate

1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
3 cups milk

Make decaffeinated coffee extra-strength using 1½ tablespoons for each cup (½ pint) water. Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly; then heat. When hot, beat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Serve hot, or chill and pour over cracked ice. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Serves 4.

A decaffeinated brew ends the dilemma of coffee lovers who fear second glasses will interfere with their sleep.

Gold Produced Here

Of the 371,165,000 fine ounces of gold produced in the world in 1938, only about 4,245,400 ounces came from continental United States.

Speed of Antelopes

Antelopes have been known to attain a speed estimated at 60 miles an hour.
